VOLUME CVII.--NO. 187. ALEXANDRIA, VA., MONDAY EVENING, AUGUST 6, 1906. PRICE 2 CENTS.

Nature's Way Is Best.

The function strengthening and tissue building plan of treating chronic, lingering and obstinate cases of disease as pursued by Dr. Pierce, is following after Nature's plan of restoring health.

He uses natural remedies, that is extracts from native medicinal roots, prepared by processes wrought out by the expenditure of much time and money, without the use of alcohol, and by skillful combination in just the right proportions.

Used as ingredients of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, Black Cherry-bark, Queen's root, Golden Seal root, Bloodroot and Stone root, specially exert their influence in cases of lung, bronchial and throat troubles, and this "Discovery," is, therefore, a sovereign remedy for bronchitis, laryngitis, chronic coughs, catarrh and kindred ailments.

The above native roots also have the strongest possible endorsement from the leading medical writers, of all the several schools of practice, for the cure not only of the diseases named above but also for indigestion, torpor of liver, or biliousness, obstinate constipation, kidney and bladder troubles and catarrh, no matter where located.

You don't have to take Dr. Pierce's say-so alone as to this; what he claims for his "Discovery" is backed up by the writings of the most eminent men in the medical profession. A request by postal card or letter, addressed to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for a little book of extracts from eminent medical authorities endorsing the ingredients of his medicines, will bring a little book free that is worthy of your attention if needing a good, safe, reliable remedy of known composition for the cure of almost any old chronic, or lingering malady.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic.

The most valuable book for both men and women is Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. A splendid 1008-page volume, with engravings and colored plates. A copy, paper-covered, will be sent to anyone sending 21 cents in one-cent stamps, to pay the cost of mailing only, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. Cloth-bound, 31 stamps.

NIP IT IN THE BUD.

First Appearance of Dandruff a Forerunner of Future Baldness.

That such is the case has been conclusively proven by scientific research. Prof. Unna, the noted European skin specialist, declares that dandruff is the burrowed-up cuticle of the scalp, caused by parasites destroying the vitality in the hair bulb. The hair becomes lifeless, and, in time, falls out. This can be prevented.

Newbro's Herpicide kills this dandruff germ, and restores the hair to its natural softness and abundancy.

Herpicide is now used by thousands of people—all satisfied that it is the most wonderful hair preparation on the market to-day.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

A Farmer Kills His Neighbor.

Alexander Cordella, 50 years old, a prominent farmer of East Vineland, N. J., yesterday shot and instantly killed his neighbor and friend, Nicholas Berti, aged 30 years. There had been a birthday celebration at the home of G. Beloni and Cordella was an uninvited guest, arriving there just before the party broke up somewhat under the influence of liquor. Berti volunteered to take Cordella home. When Cordella arrived at his home he suddenly said to Berti: "You came here to fight me, did you?" Berti answered "No," and turned to leave the yard, when Cordella opened the barn door and, seizing a shot gun, fired at 10 paces, the full charge striking Berti in the neck.

The slain man was very popular, and as his friends began to gether there was loud talk of vengeance. Deputy Sheriff Joseph Spencer and Borough Marshal Henry Tumey, of Vineland, pressed an automobile into service and patrolled the roads all the forenoon, while the farmers, armed with guns, clubs and revolvers, formed posses and searched the woods and swamps. Cordella finally took refuge in a grape-vine yard and there the officers and farmers captured him.

On the way to jail Cordella confessed by suddenly saying: "I killed him, but I do not want to be hanged. Please give me a knife or a revolver and they can bury me the same time they do Berti."

Headed by A. Leverone, a merchant of Vineland, the friends of Berti became so eager for vengeance that the officers had to use force to quiet the mob.

Want Negro Disfranchised.

As the result of Thursday's county election in Chattanooga, Tenn., in which the republican ticket was overwhelmingly defeated, after the party had admittedly spent thousands of dollars paying the poll taxes of the negroes, Chairman John H. Early, of the county committee, and Percy H. Wilson, defeated candidate for trustee, declare themselves for disfranchisement.

The republicans went to the greatest expense in handing the negro vote, and after that party had equipped them for suffrege the larger part of them were voted by the democrats. It is declared that a "lily white" movement has met almost the unanimous approval of white republicans. Mr. Wilson said:

"When the campaign for members of the legislature comes on I am for the candidate who will place in his platform a declaration in favor of a rigid educational qualification for voters. Two years from now I think I will be a candidate again for county trustee. I am sure I will if I can persuade my party to adopt the 'lily white' idea. There is nothing like experience. The negro is the most vicious element in Tennessee politics. Today he talks one way; tomorrow he has been purchased. He continues to talk the same way, but when he votes his ballot is in accordance with the deal made when the price for it was paid."

The tenor of a prepared statement by Chairman Early is practically the same, and white republicans generally are taking the same view.

Suicide at Parent's Graves.

Sitting within a few feet of the graves of her father and mother, in Loudon Park Cemetery, near Baltimore, Miss Lilly Poske, 33 years old, who had for several years been employed in the cloak department of a Baltimore store, yesterday afternoon drank a dose of carbolic acid. Then she hid the bottle from which the deadly drug had been taken among the ivy vines on a nearby grave, and a little later, just at the moment she expired, was discovered by her sister, Mrs. Frank Feldman, with whom she made her home. Hidden in the ivy on another grave was a half-pint bottle, which had contained whisky, and the presumption is that the stimulant was taken first, to give her the courage to carry out her evident purpose of self destruction. No note or message was found to disclose a purpose for the suicide. Mrs. Feldman, however, believes that despondency, the result of serious heart trouble, with which her sister had for months been a sufferer, was the cause. The woman's mouth and tongue were horribly burned, and the fact that she was sitting upright leads to the presumption that the effects of the drug were very prompt. So strong was the acid that the hand of a man who handled the glass was painfully burned.

Deed of Crazed Youth.

While apparently crazed John Carle, a homeless youth, crept behind William C. Pearson, a traveling salesman, who was walking through west Twenty-third street, New York, yesterday, and plunged a long knife into his back. As Pearson fell Carle sprang upon him and began rifling his pockets, but ran away when a dozen passersby rushed on him. Half a block away he was captured by a policeman to whom he surrendered the knife, saying: "Here's what's left of it." The blade had been broken in half, leaving three inches in Pearson's back. Pearson was taken to the hospital, where it was found that he was probably mortally wounded. When taken to the court Carle, who was much emaciated and so weak as hardly to be able to stand, said: "I made up my mind to kill someone and rob him. I was hungry. I had eaten nothing since Friday night. Saturday I stole a fruit knife from a push cart in Park Row and a few minutes before this man came along I made up my mind to kill the first man who passed. This man was the first, and I went for him." Carle was committed to Bellevue Hospital for mental examination.

A Healing Gospel.

The Rev. J. C. Warren, pastor of Sharon Baptist Church, Belair, Ga., says of Electric Bitters: "It's a Godsend to mankind. It cured me of lame back, stiff joints, and complete physical collapse. I was so weak it took me half an hour to walk a mile. Two bottles of Electric Bitters have made me so strong I have just walked three miles in 50 minutes and feel like walking three more. It's made a new man of me." Greatest remedy for weakness and all Stomach, Liver and Kidney complaints. Sold under guarantee at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store. Price only 50c.

SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

MONDAY EVENING, AUG. 6, 1906.

ACCORDING to the figures of the Internal Revenue Bureau for the last fiscal year, the receipts from the tax on spirits were $143,894,055, an increase of $7,435,542, an receipts from tobacco were $48,422,997, an increase of $2,763,086 over the previous year. The largest proportionate increase of revenue, however, came from the tax on beer. The figures for 1904-5 and 1905-6, respectively, were $49,459,539 and $54,651,636. Since the tax is $1 on each barrel of 31½ gallons, this means that the people of this country consumed something like 160,000,000 gallons of beer more last year than the year previous. The increase in the number of gallons of spirits taken out of bond for consumption was about 6,600,000, and a large percentage of this was used in the arts and industries and not drunk. The inference is that beer is displacing the more intoxicating beverages. The substitution of a mild and refreshing stimulant for ardent drinks like whisky indicates a changing of the national habits in the direction of temperance.

A CONFERENCE has been called to meet in New York on November 15 next to organize a national society, the purposes of which are to obtain and disseminate information of practices and conditions that are dangerous to the public health and morals. It is announced that the proposed society will work for the enactment and enforcement of all laws for the prevention of quackery and criminal practices in the healing art, and for the prevention of adulteration and substitution of drugs and food substances. The meeting should be largely attended and the organization should extend throughout the length and breadth of the land.

PROFESSOR T. J. J. SEE, of the Mare Island naval observatory, has announced a new law of heat accumulation by virtue of which he predicts that the future of the sun's activity will be three times as great as that of the past, thus overturning the prevailing astronomical theory. Calculations made by Professor See prove the existence of a law applying to the life of every sun and star, according to which the heat steadily increases, while the body is gaseous, and then slowly dies down by secular cooling when consolidation sets in and the light begins to wane. People in this section thought the sun had "fulled" yesterday and remained so today.

SINCE the recent discovery by the Pennsylvania State Dairy and Food Department that glucose is doctored with sulphites and two or three other poisons, an analysis of all the various kinds of cheap candy which has glucose for a foundation has been made by the State chemist, with the result that several warrants, have been issued for the arrest of dealers in "penny sweets." Several children in New York have been poisoned with candy during the last week and the parties responsible for the poisoning should be given the full benefit of the law.

AN OFFICIAL of the Department of Agriculture says that misbranding of food products will not be permitted under the new law, both as to quality and to source of products. It is hoped not but the incentive for fraud is so great that it is feared the law will be set at open defiance by those who will profit thereby.

From Washington.

(Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.)

Washington, Aug. 6.

Among the first steps to be taken as a result of the passage of the denatured alcohol bill, is an investigation by the Department of Agriculture of the possibilities of alcohol as fuel. Prof. Charles E. Lucke, of the Columbia University, New York, will conduct this investigation at the university. Announcement has been made that persons who have patented vaporizers, carburators or complete engines, which it is desired to test, should send the apparatus to the professor at once. American consuls have been called upon to report any facts concerning the industry which would be beneficial to the building of the industry in this country. In the replies the only pessimistic note came from Consul General Robert B. Skinner, of Marseilles, France, who does not anticipate that American expectations in regard to the general practicability of this fuel as a motive force are going to be realized at once.

The two millionaire brothers, William H. Jackson, republican, and Elihu E. Jackson, democrat, leaders in their respective parties on the Eastern Shore, will figure prominently in Maryland politics for two years more, the former as a candidate for Congress and the latter as a candidate for Governor. William H. Jackson has already served three terms in the House of Representatives, while Elihu E. Jackson was Governor from 1888 to 1892. The former will have a hard fight against Representative Thomas A. Smith, again the democratic nominee. It is expected that the contest will be the hottest the "Shore," has ever seen.

Instructions have been sent out by the Department of Justice to district attorneys in Kentucky, Tennessee and Alabama, to bring additional suits in each of those States against the L. & N. R. R. for alleged violations of the so-called arbitration act of 1898 concerning carriers engaged in interstate commerce and their employees. These instructions are based upon additional evidence submitted by H. B. Perham, President of the Order of Railway Telegraphers, specifying cases where the L. & N. has violated the law which prohibits an employer from requiring an employee to enter into an agreement not to become a member of a labor organization, or from threatening an employee with loss of his job, or from discrimination against such employee, because of his membership in a labor organization.

Justice Brewer, of the United States Supreme Court, in an address yesterday, said that Roosevelt, Bryan and Taft were the three purest men in American politics. The county, he said, was safe in the hands of any of them, and there would be no scandal in the White House if either one were there.

Mr. Hugh Moss, of Alexandria while aboard an outgoing train in the Pennsylvania depot this morning, grew violently ill and received a severe fall. He was sent to the Emergency Hospital.

Attorney General Moody has decided that the eight hour law does not apply to warships being built under contract for the navy. The question was recently referred to the Department of Justice by Secretary of the Navy Bonaparte. In his formal opinion made public today, the Attorney General calls attention to the case of Clarkson V. Stevens, wherein the Supreme Court held that the title of a naval vessel under construction does not vest in the government until all the conditions and covenants of the contractor have been fulfilled. The Attorney General therefore holds that the acts limiting the hours of labor upon "public works" of the United States, to "eight hours of any one calendar day," does not apply to vessels under construction for the navy by contract with builders at private establishments. The opinion was prepared and signed by Solicitor General Hoyt. It has been approved by Attorney General Moody and delivered to the Secretary of the Navy. A similar opinion has just been given the Secretary of War to the effect that the eight-hour law does not apply to contractors furnishing quartermaster's department with supplies.

A German has applied for a patent on an invention which he has perfected in a wireless telegraphic apparatus which acts over a short circuit. As soon as a vessel enters within a certain distance of another vessel, this telegraphic apparatus acts automatically in such a manner as to close the steam tube to the screw on each vessel. The machinery is thus instantly checked, and the steamers have time to reverse the engines or deduce speed and thus avert a collision. The apparatus is for use in fogs and other heavy weather.

The Secretary of the Navy has ordered the court martial at Mare Island of Lieut. Edward H. Dunn, U. S. N. Dunn is charged with scandalous conduct.

The court martial board appointed on Friday last by Secretary of the Navy Bonaparte to investigate the alleged charges of "cribbing," which have been lodged against Assistant Surgeons Pease and Brown, met this morning, but adjourned until tomorrow. It is understood that the stories which have been in circulation about the official charge probably being that of "cribbing" is absolutely wrong.

The crash occurred while the streets in the vicinity were crowded, shoppers being out in force. Hundreds of women screamed with fright, while many of the girls employed in stores near-by fainted or became hysterical.

FOUR HUNDRED DROWNED.

Sinking of Italian EmigrantShip—Terrible Scenes—Men Fight with Knives for Places in the boats — Archbishop Drowned.

A dispatch from Cartagena says that the Italian steamship Sirio, from Genoa for South America, with 800 passengers on board, was wrecked Saturday evening off Hormigas Island, which lies about two and a half miles to the eastward of Cape Palos. Three hundred of the emigrants, most of them Italians and Spaniards, were drowned. The Archbishop of Sao Pedro, Brazil, also was lost.

The remainder of the passengers and the officers and crew of the Sirio got away in the ship's boats or were rescued by means of ropes thrown to them from the shore. A number of fishermen who made attempts at rescue were drowned.

The captain of the steamship, after admitting that the catastrophe was due to his own imprudence, committed suicide by making no attempt to save himself. Another account says he shot himself with a revolver.

The Sirio was an iron vessel, of 4,141 tons and 5,012-horsepower. She was built at Glasgow in 1883 and was owned by the Navigazione Italiana of Genoa.

The Sirio struck the rocky reef known as Bajos Hormigas, and sank soon after, stern first.

The steamer had 645 passengers on board and her crew numbered 127 men. The Sirio had 570 passengers when leaving Genoa, but additional Spanish passengers were taken on board at Barcelona, where the vessel touched a few hours before the disaster.

The disaster occurred at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The Sirio was threading a difficult passage through the Hormigas group, where the Bajos Hormigas reef is a continual menace to navigation. The vessel began to settle rapidly immediately after she had struck, and a terrible scene of confusion and panic ensued on board.

Most of the officers and crew of the Sirio are among the saved.

Passengers confirm the fearful nature of the calamity. From the broken narratives of the terror-stricken survivors it would appear that it was the intention of the captain of the Sirio, after leaving Barcelona, to call at Cadiz before proceeding to Brazil. The captain in order to shorten the route and gain time, purposed to pass as close as possible to the dangerous rocky ledges surrounding the Hormigas Islands. Without any warning and while running at full speed the Sirio crashed upon the rocks with terrible force. A few minutes later the stern of the vessel sank beneath the waves.

The passengers were in a state of horror and panic. Crowds rushed forward, pushing each other and fighting for places in the bow of the boat. Many fell and were trampled to death. Dozens of men and women threw themselves into the sea. A young mother who was carrying her baby was advised to abandon the child and try to save herself alone. This she refused to do, declaring she preferred that they die together. Both eventually were picked up alive from the water.

In the midst of this panic the captain and officers of the Sirio endeavored in vain to restrain the people, restore a semblance of order and organize a system of life-saving. This was not accomplished, for the vessel suddenly either broke in half or glided off the rocks and foundered in deep water. The captain purposely sank with his ship.

The Archbishop of Sao Pedro went down with the vessel while blessing the drowning passengers.

The survivors went into camp on the main square of the town at Cape Palos. Here harrowing scenes are enacted as the stricken families anxiously seek be loved members among the rescued. A mother who lost her three children went insane.

The condition of the survivors is most deplorable. They have lost everything and are without money, food or clothing.

The Madrid correspondent of the London Daily Telegraph describes the Sirio disaster as one of the worst on record. The Italian emigrants, with knives in their hands, and without regard for the woman or children, fought with the greatest brutality for the possession of lifebuoys and boats. Many were killed or wounded, including several members of the crew, who were attacked by emigrants.

Eye-witnesses give awful pictures of the brutal panic on board. For half an hour the emigrants were masters of the situation. They completely overcame the crew by sheer force of numbers and this in spite of the efforts of the officers, who tried to save the women and children first.

One report states that a groups of emigrants approached one of the ship's boats which already was full and which was about to be launched and dislodged the people, killing several with their knives. Just as they were about to occupy the boat themselves another body of armed emigrants came up and a fierce fight for the possession of the lifeboat followed.

Many of the survivors brought ashore were seriously wounded and a number had sustained fractured limbs. Some of the injured subsequently died.

It is reported that the celebrated Spanish singer, Lola Milanes, was among the drowned.

Cartagena, Spain, Aug. 6.—The death list in the wreck of the Italian steamship Sirio, off Hormigas Island, will probably exceed 400. The fact that the ship's books were lost makes it more difficult to tell just how many lives were lost, and the exact number may never be known.

Madrid, Aug. 6.—The captain of the French steamer, the Marie Louise, which witnessed the disaster to the Sirio and rescued some of her passengers, in an interview today in regard to the wreck, said: "The Sirio was going at full speed at the time of the accident. I saw her suddenly stop and brought my ship around, fearing she had met with an accident, as the Sirio was then passing near a shoal northeast of Hormigas Islands. Then her bow lifted and her stern sank. The next moment there was a tremendous explosion; both boilers had burst. We put on full steam to reach the Sirio and picked up fifty-four people."

Mistaking a dilution of carbolic acid for a medicine he had been taking for chills and fever, John Wise, forty-five years old, of Cattletts station, swallowed the contents, shortly after 8 o'clock Saturday night, and is now in a critical condition at the Emergency Hospital in Washington. Wise had been using the dilution for a wound on his foot.

To Fight Labor Unions In Politics.

New York, Aug. 6.—The challenge issued by Samuel Gompers in his recent announcement from Washington that the American Federation of Labor is to become an organized political party and to take an active part in the coming national campaign, and in his appeal for a $2,000,000 fund for the defeat of blacklisted congressmen has been promptly accepted in a statement made public here yesterday by the Citizens' Industrial Association, the organization which is conducting the fight for the open shop. The citizens association is equipped with a national organization, and has affiliated bodies in practically every congressional district. It proposes to join issue with the laborites all along the line. Wherever the labor unions make a fight against the re-election of a Congressman, as Mr. Gompers has announced that they will do in the case of Speaker Cannon, Congressmen Littlefield of Maine, McCall of Massachusetts, Jenkins of Wisconsin, Bartholdt of Missouri and a number of other leaders who have declined to support measures advocated by the unions, the citizens' association will take part in the fight. The statement issued by the association yesterday through its President, Mr. C. W. Post, is addressed "to the 78,000,000 citizens not members of the labor unions," and says that the labor union movement in politics is one of "opposition to candidates selected to represent the interests of the common people, but opposed to the selfish interests of the labor trust."

The address concludes as follows:

"We particularly invite attention to the attack on the congressmen who refused to assist in passing the infamous measure of anarchy, the anti-injunction bill, a bill proposed by the labor unions to tie the hands of the courts and thus permit property to be destroyed and men assaulted before the courts can act. Such a condition of affairs it is thought by the labor trust would allow them to terrorize the community and permit their members free license to commit violence without restraint, but it can be seen that an absence of restraining law could as well be used by capital trusts if they should see fit to hire men to attack members of the labor trust or blow up their homes in like manner as the labor unions now operate. This would be a condition of no law, or anarchy, a return to barbarism not favorable to present day civilization. Citizens of all classes must act in defense of their liberties and constitutional rights and actively interest themselves to elect their own representatives. There are 78,000,000 common citizens as compared with about 2,000,000 members of the labor trust, many of whom unwilling members and are at heart patriotic citizens with a desire for the upholding of law and order and who will not vote to place further power in the hands of the labor trust leaders. The interests of the great majority, the common people, must be conserved and protected by the election of their own representatives whether they be democrats or republicans.

Russian Strike a Failure.

Helsingfors, Finland, Aug. 6.—M. Malm, chief of police, here and two adjutantshave resigned as a consequence of the recent disorders here. Major Pergs, a Finlander, from the Russian caucasus army, has been appointed to succeed M. Malm.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 6.—It was estimated this morning that only 60,000 of the 250,000 workingmen in St. Petersburg had obeyed the summons for the strike on the part of leaders of the workmen. This is regarded as the chief reason for the failure of more men to strike. The employes of several of the mills have openly refused to join the strike.

Numerous meetings were held yesterday at which the strike situation was discussed, but no definite resolutions for the guidance of the strikers were adopted. The authorities are doing everything in their power to break the strike. The prefect has notified workmen on the tramway that they will be heavily fined for striking. At the Apraksin market strike agitators were badly beaten by anti-strikers who refused to leave their work. Twenty workmen were injured in clashes with the police yesterday.

This morning the city is quiet. Three of the newspapers made their appearance today.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 6.—The strikers have torn up the Irinov Railway. The general strike is now spreading to Moscow and Nostrova.

Moscow, Aug. 6.—The prefect of police today issued a warning to the workingmen who passed a resolution favoring a general strike that all strikers will be expelled and that their meetings will be broken up.

Odessa, Aug. 6.—The authorities here are living in the greatest suspense for fear there will be mutinies in both the fortress and among the sailors on the warships. The men in both branches of the service are greatly dissatisfied and an outbreak is likely to occur at any moment.

Run on a Bank.

Chicago, Aug. 6.—Failure of the cashier of the Milwaukee Avenue state bank to appear this morning caused a run on that establishment and scenes which required the presence or twenty policemen to prevent attempts to mob the offices. Deposits are said to aggregate $7,000,000. It was reported to the police that the cashier had absconded with a large of the bank's funds. How much is missing, the officials of the bank were unable to state. Its affairs are in the hands of Theodore Stensland son of the president, who closed its doors, before the crowd became unmanageable, and informed depositors that the bank would not be reopened until an examination could be completed to ascertain the exact amount of the shortage. The bank is capitalized at $250,000.

State Examiner Jones later closed the bank. He issued a statement to the effect that he had found the bank without an executive officer present or in the city. The president of the bank is Paul O. Stensland, who is now in Europe, Theodore Stensland, is vice president.

Killed Her Husband With an Axe.

New York, Aug. 6.—A bitter fight between husband and wife reached a climax, at one o'clock this afternoon, when Mrs. Korner, a woman 60 years old, secured an axe and struck her husband over the head splitting his skull from top to bottom, and killing him instantly. The murder occurred at the Korner home at 738 Myrtle avenue, Brooklyn. The police arrested Mrs. Korner. Neighbors said that the Korners have been drinking freely for several days and that the pair had had frequent quarrels.

The Torrid Wave.

New York, Aug. 6.—New York is boiling and stewing in a torrid wave. There is great distress and suffering among the poor. Last night was the severest experienced during the present heated term, and will add heavily, physicians declare, to the list of mortalities among infants as well as the aged. One man was driven mad, and private physicians were called into homes of comparative comfort to administer to hundreds of cases of persons stricken by the overwhelming heat. Thousands slept on the roofs of their homes. Fire escapes, too, were converted into sleeping places by the heat afflicted.

Natives Active.

Manila, Aug. 6.—Renewed activity is being shown by the Pulajanes, Igorrotes, and head hunters in Leyte and Cayagin islands. Sunday morning, a body of Pulajanes, 200 strong, surprised the post of Balaway and killed the ex-president of the village, two members of the constabularly, and three policemen. On Cayagin island, Major Crawford, in command of a detachment of United States troops, was ambushed by a party of head hunters and Igorrotes on the Abulag river. Major Crawford, Captain Kaber, and several of the soldiers were wounded by the arrows of the savages.

After the Ice Barons.

New York, Aug. 6.—Judge Otto Rosalski in the court of general sessions, today, instructed the August grand jury to investigate the alleged ice trust and to return indictments in case there is evidence of conspiracy on the part of the "ice barons," to explain the increase in the price of ice. The instructions were offered at a time when New York is suffering from the worst hot spell of the season and when the greatest suffering has resulted among the poorer classes because the high price of ice makes it an almost prohibitive luxury among the tenement dwellers.

Killed on Switchback.

New York, Aug. 6.—Several thousand pleasure seekers at Fort George, and other spectators on the Speedway, saw Miss Katharine Rosebroth, nineteen-years-old, jolted out of a swiftly speeding car on a switchback railway at 193d street and Amsterdam avenue yesterday afternoon, and her body dragged up and down the inclines until she was killed. The unfortunate young woman was jolted out of the car while she was in the act of adjusting her dress.

Former Auditor Sentenced.

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 6.—John W. Neff, former auditor of Erie county, convicted last week of stealing $33,000 of public funds in connection with the removal of bodies from the North Street Cemetery, now the site of the 65th regiment armory, was sentenced by Justice Rogers, at Warsaw, this morning, to seven years at hard labor in Auburn prison.

Brave Rescue.

Brussels, Belgium, Aug. 6.—A dispatch from Blanitenburgh tells of the brave rescue by a Pittsburg girl, Miss Hollander, of a youth who was drowning. A fifteen-year-old boy who was bathing sank, and was about to drown, when Miss Hollander reached him. She kept him afloat until a boat could come to his assistance and the youth was taken to shore.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Aug. 6.—Brokers active in the trading called the market wonderfully strong, everything on the list making some gains. It was a matter of comment that when the market opened there were no stocks for sale around Saturday's close, and although the room traders fought for a renewal of the reaction they found their stocks absorbed as quickly as offered. An idea prevailed that J. R. Keene had much to do with the bull manipulation or the accumulation of stocks, whichever it may be. Commission houses traded on both sides, taking profits in some cases and buying other stocks in place of those sold.

Man and Wife in Hospital.

M. B. Case and his wife are both in the City Hospital at Lynchburg as a result, it is alleged, of a drunken spree, in which the man is said to have indulged. Mrs. Case has a bullet through her head, said to have been inflicted by her husband, and will probably die. Case is suffering from injuries received in falling from a train on which, it is alleged, he was endeavoring to escape arrest. The shooting took place at the Case home about midnight Saturday, when Case, in a drunken frenzy, it is alleged, sent a ball crashing through his wife's eye. The bullet passed through her head, coming out through the neck. Case fled before neighbors, attracted by the shot, could reach his home, and the police were unable to locate him. Yesterday morning a Norfolk and Western official in Lynchburg received a telegram asking him to make arrangements to care for a man who had fallen from a freight train near Forest and who had refused to disclose his identity. When the train reached Lynchburg it was discovered that the injured man was Case, who was immediately put under arrest. He was taken to the hospital, where he is being guarded. He has a severe wound on the head, but is not seriously injured.

Completion of a Great Tunnel.

The last two headings of the Consolidation Coal Company's drainage tunnel, the greatest engineering feat ever undertaken in the Cumberland, Md., coal-mining region, have just been completed, and the tunnel will be placed in use within the next two weeks, when the water that for years has been pumped from the mines into George's Creek, forming the greater part of that stream, will be brought down the other side of the mountain to the Potomac river at Cumberland, instead of emptying into the stream at Piedmont. In fact, it will make a subterranean stream two miles long drain the mines into streams that will flow into Willis Creek at the far end of the narrows and from there into the river at Cumberland. The drainage tunnel has been driven principally to drain Hoffman and Eckhart mines and will uncover a vast area of coal in that region that it has heretofore been impossible to work on account of the heavy flow of water which even the immense pumping stations of the company have been unable to carry off.

Russian Affairs.

Bomb throwing, the murder of officials train robberies, and violence and disorders continue in various parts of the distracted empire of Russia, but the great general strike which was to have ushered in an era of general revolt is not thus far impressive. The government officials predict its failure.

A bomb was exploded Saturday afternoon in a room in the Kazan-Moscow Railway station at Moscow, occupied by the train superintendent. Two employes were killed.

Train robbers Saturday between Libau and Haifpot stole $40,000 of government money. Eight passengers were wounded in defense of the train. Among them were the Consul General of Brazil, M. von Rupnievski, and a German named Grundmann.

Weather Probabilities.

For this section fair and continued warm tonight and Tuesday; light westerly winds.

The New Union Yards.

The new union yards north of Alexandria, now nearing completion, are said to be the largest freight yards in the South. Here the freight between the North and the South is to be transferred. The yards were opened for business last week. This immense project cost $2,000,000. It embodies the latest methods of railway construction and of freight handling. Many of the large systems that run through the South deliver their cars for northern points through these yards. The northern lines send their trains through this gateway. About 4,000 cars can be handled in the yards at a time. That number can be handled five times in 24 hours, making the total capacity 20,000 cars a day.

The switching of the thousands of cars that will pass through the yards every day will be done by electricity and gravity. An engine will back a long train up to what is called the "dump," and from this point the cars will glide down an inclined plane. They will be classified according to destination and contents, and each car, as it approaches the switches, will be sent upon its proper track. This arrangement is much less expensive than the old system of switching with engines, half the number of locomotives that would otherwise be required answering every purpose. The round house, machine shop and other buildings are located in the center of the yards. On one side is the northbound yards, in which cars for northern points will be distributed. On the other side is the southbound yards, where cars will be distributed and trains made up for points in the South. A network of tracks extends in every direction. All the power for the switching and lighting of the yards will be manufactured within their limits. All the southern lines, with the exception of the Southern Railway, are now using the new yards. It is reported that by September 1 the Southern will abandon its present yards at Alexandria and handle its trains thereafter in the Potomac yards at Four-Mile run.

Deaths.

Mrs. Mabel Brenner, wife of William C. Brenner, died at the Alexandria Hospital yesterday morning. The deceased was twenty nine years of age, and was a daughter of Mr. George E. Markell. Besides her husband, she is survived by three children. Mrs. Brenner had been suffering for some time from internal troubles. It finally became necessary for her to undergo a sugical operation, when it was found that a malignant cancerous growth was the cause of her trouble. She lingered until an early hour yesterday morning, when her death followed.

Mr. Isaac L. Ball died at the Georgetown University Hospital last Friday. The deceased was 53 years old, and was a brother of the late Col. M. D. Ball. He resided in Alexandria about a third of a century ago, when he was engaged in the newspaper business. He later became a resident of Baltimore. His remains will be interred at Lewinsville, Fairfax county

Mrs. Elizabeth B. Carver, wife of Mr. James H. Carver, died Saturday night at Hayfield, Fairfax county, aged eighty-five years. The deceased was a native of Fauquier county, and the remains were sent today to Marshall for burial.

Drowning at Colonial Beach.

George Colton Burch, fifteen years old, of 511 D street southeast, Washington, met death in the Potomac at Colonial Beach yesterday morning at 11 o'clock in water hardly over his head. Together with two companions, the unfortunate youth was in a row boat from which all were diving and disporting in the water when the drowning occurred. Among the bathers was one of the unfortunate boy's sisters. At the time of accident, however, the party was some distance from her, and it was not until after the search had been under way for some moments that she was told of her brother's fate. The young woman swooned in the water, and it was with some difficulty that her limp form was kept above the surface and taken to the beach, where she was revived. The drowning cast a gloom over all who visited the beach yesterday and the accident was a dismal ending to what had been planned as a weak of pleasure for the entire Burch family. Young Burch was the only son of Mr. J. B. Burch, who is superintendent of the Prudential Life Insurance Company in Washington, and was employed for the summer in the Southern Railway offices in that city.

St. Mary's Church.

A well-attended meeting of the congregation of St. Mary's Church was held last night in St. Mary's Hall. The object of the meeting was to inaugurate a movement for the refurnishing and remodelling of St. Mary's parsonage. Rev. Father Kelly, assistant pastor, acted as chairman, and after a brief interchange of remarks the following committees were appointed and assigned their respective duties.

Ladies: Mrs. Mamie Bowers, chairman; Mrs. M. E. O'Sullivan, Mrs. Jacob Brill, Mrs. Annie Stoutenburgh, Mrs. T. McGowan and Miss Mollie Gorman.

Gentlemen: Messrs. James Roche, chairman; T. McGowan, J. L. Monroe, Charles Hellmuth, R. M. Latham and T. F. McCarthy.

These committees will hold a meeting at St. Mary's parsonage tonight at 8 o'clock.

Fatally Burned.

An elderly colored woman named Isabella Williams was fatally burned at her home near the old canal basin last Saturday night. She was on her way up stairs when a kerosene lamp in her hand exploded. The burning fluid ignited her clothing and before any one could come to her assistance she was fearfully burned. The woman was later taken to the Alexandria Hospital where she died yesterday morning.

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Auxliary to R. E. Lee Camp will be held in Confederate Veterans' building tomorrow, Tuesday, evening, 8 o'clock.

A Complaint.

Officers visited Jones's Point yesterday where, it is said, unseemly conduct is carried on every Sunday. It is alleged that liquor is sold on arks anchored a short distance from the point and that men, after drinking themselves drunk, land there. Many persons, mostly ladies and children, walk on Jones's Point during summer evenings, but if present conditions continue they will be compelled to seek other localities on which to stroll. The complaint was made by Mr. Wilkins, keeper of the Jones's Point lighthouse. He has leased a large portion of the point from the Southern Railway Company, and persons who land there in boats after visiting the arks will be prosecuted for trespass. Mr. Wilkins invites orderly persons to visit the point as heretofore, but will endeavor to keep objectionable characters off the premises. The officials who visited the "point" yesterday were the Mayor, Chief Goods and Officers Jones, Henderson and Beach. A number of men started to land from one of the arks, but when they saw the officers they embarked on a sail boat and made off down the river.

Excitement on a Ferris Wheel.

Some excitement was caused on the old fair grounds on Saturday night where a ferris wheel was in operation. The electric wires became crossed, which burned out the insulation, fire dropping among those riding on the wheel. The wheel stopped revolving and those caught in the upper "cars" became frightened as to the possibility of being suspended in mid air during the night. Finally the wires were arranged and the movements of the wheel were resumed.

Rammed the Slip.

The ferry steamer Woodbury rammed the slip in making her landing here yesterday evening at 7 o'clock and the concusion knocked a number of vitrified bricks from their foundation. When the signal was given to the engineer to reverse his engines he found it impossible to do so, which caused the steamer to collide violently with the slip. The Woodbury, it will be remembered, from the same cause rammed the slip at this port on her first trip last November.

War on Dogs.

The police yesterday started a war against dogs within the city limits, when Officer Knight took the initiative, killing two curs and "arresting" one. This morning Officer Jones took one dog in charge, which, to all appearances, was suffering from the heat. Strange dogs have for some time past been a nuisance in this city, and the authorities are determined to abate the annoyance. The police will take in charge all dogs caught without a license tag.

Gamblers Arrested.

Officers Jones and Henderson yesterday afternoon arrested Samuel Madison, Joseph Buckley, John McCuen, Robert Arnold and another young man, charged with gambling. The five men were in a small frame house on Fishtown when surprised by the officers who had been sent there by Chief Goods. The accused were arraigned before Justice Caton in the Police Court this morning. One was dismissed and the others were fined $5 each.

Fined Fifty Dollars.

Charles Tebbs, colored, was arrested yesterday by Chief Goods and Officer Arrington charged will selling liquor without a license on upper King street. The accused was fined $50 by Justice Caton in the Police Court this morning.

Frightfully Burned.

Chas. W. Moore, a machinist, of Ford City, Pa., had his hand frightfully burned in an electrical furnace. He applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve with the usual result: "a quick and perfect cure." The Churches Yesterday.

In consequence of many people out of the city and the prevalence of a hot wave the churches yesterday were slimly attended. At Christ Church the morning sermon was preached by Rev. Robert K. Massie, D. D., of the Episcopal Theological Seminary. At St. Paul's Church the morning sermon was preached by Rev. L. R. Combs, in the absence of Rev. P. P. Phillips, the rector. At Grace Church the morning sermon was preached by Rev. Dr. Micou, of the Episcopal Theological Seminary, and the evening sermon by Rev. Dr. R. K. Massie, also of the Seminary. At the Second Presbyterian Church the services were conducted by Rev. W. H. T. Squires. Rev. Dr. H. R. Naylor, of Washington, preached in the morning at Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church in place of the pastor, Rev. J. A. Jeffers. There were no services at the Methodist Protestant Church yesterday, the pastor, Rev. J. H. S. Ewell, being away on his vacation. The services at St. Mary's Church were conducted by Rev. Father Kelley, the assistant pastor of the church.

Alexandria's Postmaster Stamp.

An act was passed by Congress March 3, 1845, establishing the uniform postage rate of 5 and ten cents, but the Postmaster General was not authorized to issue postage until March 3, 1847. In the meantime the postmasters of several towns had issued stamps, which they sold without the authority of the government. They were sold at a slight advance to cover the cost of production. The signature of the postmaster appeared on the stamp, to show that the cost of postage had been paid.

Alexandria's postmaster stamp, issued in 1846, by Postmaster Daniel Bryan, is one of the greatest rarities. The design is typeset, of a circular ornamental border. Within this, forming another circle, are the words, "Alexandria Post-office," and inside the second circle is "5 Paid." This stamp is found only in black but the cancellation is hand-stamped in red. As this variety is seldom offered for sale, it is difficult to estimate its value.

Funerals.

The funeral of the late Patrick Foley, whose death occurred Friday night at his home on north Columbus street, took place from St. Mary's Church at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Rev. Father Kelly officiated.

The funeral of the late Rev. Dr. O. F. Flippo took place yesterday afternoon at Martinsburg, W. Va., Rev. T. S. Dunaway officiating. The services at the grave were conducted by the two lodges of Masons of Martinsburg.

Child Killed.

A little child was killed at the bush meeting near Purcellville yesterday. The mother of the child was walking on the grounds when she stumbled over an obstruction and falling on the little one crushed it to death. The anguish of the mother was terrible, so much so that it is feared it will result in the dethronement of her reason. She has been taken to a Baltimore sanitarium.

Hot Weather.

Yesterday was another hot Sunday. The mercury in the thermometer soared into the nineties, while the humidity was intense. During the afternoon, when the discomforture was most pronounced, comparatively few people appeared on the streets. The weather continued hot during the night, so much so that sleep in many cases was impossible.

Police Court.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

There were 23 persons before the Police Court this morning, 13 of whom were negroes. They were charged with misdemeanors and the cases were properly disposed of.

Game Chickens.

Mr. Joseph B. Drew was the recipient Saturday of three fine specimens of game chickens, received from the Munster farm in Massachusetts. They are of the saddle-back and irish gray breed and are beautiful and stately specimens of the feathered tribe. The chickens were sent by a friend to Mr. Drew, who takes pleasure in showing them to his many acquaintance.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The mercury at 2 o'clock this evening registered 94°.

Rural free delivery route No. 1 has been ordered established October 1 at East Falls Church, Alexandria county. The length of the route is 20.9 miles; population served, 417; houses 125.

The skies became overcast early this evening, and there were light showers, accompanied by some lightning and thunder, but the threatened storm did not materalize. There was a heavy rain, however, below this city on both sides of the river.

Some excitement was caused at the foot of Prince street about 7 o'clock yesterday evening by a youth who fell overboard. A naptha launch which was passing at the time went to his rescue and the youth was soon replaced on the wharf.

Lulu Robinson and Rosa Neil, both colored, caused some excitement on the old fair grounds last Saturday night by engaging in a fight. The combatants were arrested by Officer Knight and were fined $5 each in the Police Court this morning.

Catharine, the seven-year-old daughter of Mrs. Kate and the late Sidney Pulman, fell from a horse on their farm in Fairfax county, a short distance from this city yesterday and broke one of the bones of her left elbow.

The pile of wagon wheels and miscellaneous junk which has been on the Strand near King street for many years is being removed, preparatory to proposed improvements to the wharf property at that point.

About Those Peaches.

Saturday's supply, 9 bushels, gave out long before closing time. We had counted on selling lots of those peaches when you had found out how good they were. Tomorrow morning we'll have a bigger consignment here for you—right fresh from the orchards; the same orchards that our last week's peaches came from. The same big, sound, well-ripened, luscious kind of peaches—ideal for canning. Get busy. . . . . Going to have some Damsons, too, and everything obtainable in the fruit and vegetable kingdom. . . . . .

Dandies of Papua.

Even the natives of Papua have their fine gentlemen, their dandies. To rank in this class the young man is compelled to lace his waist and to have a nose ornament of polished shell. But, as an explorer says, "very few young blades can afford to possess one, and accordingly it may be lent either for a consideration or as a very special favor. The possessor of one of these ornaments could easily buy a wife for it, and sometimes it is paid as a tribal tribute by one should he have to pay blood money or be unable to give the statutory pig as atonement for a murder." Papuan husbands, too, have a primitive way of dealing with their recalcitrant wives. A man named Gedon had a shrewish helpmate whom he attempted to tame according to this method: "He would pick up a billet of wood when she was halfway through a tremendous scolding and give her a terrific blow over the back. Thereupon ensued pandemonium. The other men and women would gather round, jabbering, but they would make no attempt to stop the beating once it had begun."

The Fashionable Dinner.

Eight men exclusive of the butler are required to serve a dinner of twenty-four covers, one being allowed for every three diners. Another is stationed in the pantry to "run in" the courses. Absolute order and silence reign among these men, who perfectly understand the butler's cabalistic signs. Electric signals pass constantly between chef and butler. From the seating of guests until the ladies leave not more than eighty-five minutes should elapse, for long dinners are considered bad form. Upon these occasions scarcely a member of the domestic corps escapes some special duty. The housemaids assist the pantry maid. After each course twenty-four silver plates and countless small silver must be carefully cleansed, wiped very dry and then polished with chamois before being put away. Nearly 200 pieces of engraved crystal ware must be washed and polished, and it is too costly and brittle to be hastily handled.—Everybody's Magazine.

Ghost or Illusion?

A minister of the gospel, according to this tale, was walking to and fro in a long passage that ran through the house and meditating upon his next sermon. There brushed by him a housemaid. He watched her pass and enter his study. Fearing that she would disarrange his papers, he hurried after her, went into his study—and no one was there. No means of egress was possible but by the one door through which he had seen the girl enter. He rang the bell and—the housemaid came down from the top of the house, where she had been performing her duties. And the unusual part of the story is that nothing happened—no one sickened and died. The young woman married happily. And yet that minister of the gospel is sure that he saw that housemaid pass him. Nor to this day does his stout and happy matron know that she was ever in two places at once.

Wealth In Old Roman Times.

Our wealth, as much as we boast of it, is comparatively puny as compared with the wealth of men of old. There was Mark Antony's house that was sold to Messala for over $500,000, and Scaurus' villa was burned at a loss of over $12,000,000. Otho spent over $14,000,000 in finishing one wing of a palace commenced by Nero. Nearly $36,000,000 was found in the coffers of Tiberius, and Caligula spent it all in less than a year. Paulus could make a trifling present to the mother of Brutus of a pearl worth over $80,000. So let us be modest. We are a cheap people, even the wealthiest of us.

Smoking the Nargile.

A Greek thus tells how the nargile is smoked by his brethren:

"Only pure tobacco is used in the nargile. It is grown expressly for the purpose in Persia. The weed there is called tumbeky. This kind of tobacco is first washed two or three times by the man who keeps the restaurant. He puts it under a faucet and squeezes the juice out. Otherwise the tobacco would be too strong. Then, when the smoke of it is drawn through the water, the tobacco having, of course, been dried first, all the nicotine is deposited in the water, and a delightful and innocuous smoke is the result."

The Test.

"How do you like your new music teacher?"

"He's no good."

"Why, what makes you think so?"

"Yesterday I played a common tune clear through, and he didn't say it would take a week's practice to offset the harm done."

Surely.

"Tommy is such a sweet child," said a doting mother, "that I often think it will be a miracle if he lives to grow up."

"It will," said the candid neighbor, with a baleful gleam in his eye.

Luckiest Man in Arkansas.

"I'm the luckiest man in Arkansas," writes H. L. Stanley, of Bruno, "since the restoration of my wife's health after five years of continuous coughing and bleeding from the lungs; and I owe my good fortune to the world's greatest medicine, Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which I know from experience will cure consumption if taken in time. My wife improved with first bottle and twelve bottles completed the cure." Cures the worst coughs and colds or money refunded. At E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' druggists. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Prof. Tyler, of Amherst college, said recently: "A man can live comfortably without brains; no man ever existed without a digestive system. The dyspeptic has neither faith, hope or charity." Day by day people realize the importance of caring for their digestion; realize the need of the use of a little corrective after overeating. A corrective like Kodol For Dyspepsia. It digests what you eat. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 Kingstreet.

FOR OVER SIXTY YEARS

AN OLD AND WELL-TRIED REMEDY.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over sixty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic and is the best remedy for Diarrhœa. It is pleasant to the taste. Sold by druggists in every part of the world. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Its value is incalculable. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup and take no other kind.

Where Christianity Began.

The hills of Bethlehem are full of caves, natural and artificial, and many of them have historic significance. There is the milk grotto, in which Joseph and Mary are said to have concealed themselves before their flight into Egypt to escape the evil designs of Herod. The snowy whiteness of the soft chalk out of which it is hewn is ascribed to the spilling of a few drops of the Virgin's milk when she nursed the infant Jesus. Another grotto is pointed out as that in which St. Jerome for more than thirty years led the life of a hermit when bitter factional dissensions had forced him to leave Rome. On a western hill a rock strewn plateau, around which stately terebinths stand guard, marks a place where the ancient Hebrews brought their sacrifices unto the Lord. It is a solemn place, well fitted to excite devout thoughts—a place where a man might well keep communion with his Maker. In its broader features Bethlehem is almost unchanged since the days of David.—Four Track News.

Vegetable Rennets.

Those who would like to make cheese on a very small scale are often troubled to get proper rennet to produce coagulation of the milk. A scientist says that if the leaves of the common butterwort are placed in a strainer and the milk fresh from the cow is poured over it the milk will soon become thick and has a most delicious flavor. The yellow bedstraw also possesses the properties of curdling milk, and the natives of Cheshire prefer it as a rennet to all other sorts. The leaves and flowers are put in the strainer, and the milk is slowly poured over them. The flower heads of the garden artichoke also possess the property of coagulating milk. In view of the carelessness sometimes noted in people who prepare rennet in the ordinary fashion this vegetable rennet is worthy of attention. The leaves, properly cleaned and prepared, would be very much safer and more hygienic than animal substances which may go through chemical changes that unfit them for food.

Old Statues.

Herodotus makes Solon tell Croesus of several men happier than he. Two brothers, Cleobis and Biton of Argos, he said, when oxen were lacking to draw their mother, the priestess of Hera, to the temple several miles distant, harnessed themselves to the cart. When the mother, proud of her sons and moved by the plaudits of the crowd, had prayed to Hera that her sons might receive the best gifts the gods had to bestow, they lay down in the shade of the temple and never waked. Herodotus says that their statues were sent to Delphi. Homolle found at Delphi two statues practically identical, of finest archaic work, made early in the sixth century B. C. Since one of them bore the signature of an Argive sculptor, Polymedes, in archaic letters, we may believe that the story of Herodotus is based on fact and that we have before us today the identical statues.—Chautauquan.

Hot Pipe Bites the Tongue.

"You see smoking tobacco advertised every now and again guaranteed not to bite the tongue. Dealers sell it, of course, but inwardly they smile at the idea." So spoke a tobacconist. "You see, it's this way. The fire in the pipe will bite the tongue if the tobacco burns too fast—namely, if it is a very loose long cut tobacco or a very short dry cut and not packed closely enough in the bowl. There is a point where tobacco may be too closely packed to draw and a point where it may be so loosely packed that it burns fast, and minute sparks pass through the stem and reach the smoker's mouth. These are the causes of burnt tongues."—Pittsburg Dispatch.

The Elephant's Trunk.

An elephant's trunk answers that animal as nose and hand. He also uses it for drinking, drawing up the water through his trunk and then pouring it into his mouth. The elephant has a singular habit when suffering from the heat of poking his nose down his throat into his stomach and withdrawing a quantity of water, which he then squirts over his back and sides to cool his body. As during a warm day this operation is repeated about once in every five minutes riding an elephant in the sun is no pleasant undertaking.

Upside Down.

"So you don't believe in college education?"

"No, sir. After graduation I nearly starved to death practicing law."

"But you look prosperous now."

"Yes, sir. I went into vaudeville and made a fortune balancing a barrel on my feet while standing on my head."—Detroit Free Press.
